

El Salvador

El Salvador was the first country from which Christian Adoption Services made adoptive placements when the agency was founded in 1979. When CAS conducted a Motherland Tour for adult adoptees to their native country of El Salvador, CAS was warmly received and renewed its commitment to re-establish a viable program through which needy and orphaned children could find permanency.

With CAS holding accreditation for the Hague Convention on Intercountry Adoptions, the rapport with social work officials in El Salvador seems to have grown stronger. The country is mindful to uphold Hague policies which provide safeguards for children as well as for birth and adoptive parents.

CHILDREN

Children from El Salvador are of Spanish or Native Indian (Mestizo) heritage. Those who are most readily adoptable are children four years of age and older. As in most countries, the legal process to clear children for adoption is lengthy so the youngest children are likely to be close to two years of age at placement.

CRITERIA FOR ADOPTION

Applicants are to be practicing Christians who are at least 25 years of age, yet no more than 45 years older than the child. There is a degree of flexibility in family size. Single adoptive applicants are accepted in the program although priority is given to couples who have been married for 5 years.

LENGTH OF PROCESS

With El Salvador being a new program, full details of the adoption process are somewhat undefined. Those who wish to become engaged in this program must be accepting of this fact, yet the dedicated team of workers both at CAS and in San Salvador, there is every reason to be optimistic about the program. The process to adopt toddlers is anticipated to be 18-24 months and about 12 months for those who are older. When CAS is recruiting families for children who have been referred to the agency for home finding, the placement is a priority case and placement is anticipated within 6-9 months.

TRAVEL

Shortly after receiving a referral that will include a photo of the child and his or her social and medical history, the adoptive parents are required to travel to San Salvador. They will be engaged in the court process that leads to the child's adoption decree. This stay is estimated to be for 2-3 weeks, yet one parent can return to the States after the court hearing.
